

Audition call for young talent

Brampton Guardian

BRAMPTON— Brampton's young and talented will be given the opportunity to perform on the world-class stage of the Rose Theatre with the return of the popular Centre Stage program.

Auditions for the 2014 Centre Stage Gala will be held on Nov. 23 and 24. The program is seeking young singer, musicians, dancers, magicians, comedians and talents of all kinds.

Participants must attend a Brampton elementary, middle or high school to be eligible.

Those selected will become certified performance stars for day when they showcase their talents at the Rose Theatre in the spring of 2014. Participants will also be offered mentoring by professional performers to prepare for their big debut.

Finalists in the program will also be given the opportunity for exposure at city events.

To register for an audition, call the Education Desk at 905-793-4841 or email roseeducation@brampton.ca (<mailto:roseeducation@brampton.ca>).

Brampton's young and talented will be given the opportunity to perform on the world-class stage of the Rose Theatre with the return of the popular Centre Stage program.
