

Joel Plaskett performs at Rose, Friday

Brampton Guardian

BRAMPTON— An East Coast musician hailed as one of the nation's best songwriters will take the stage in Brampton on Friday, Nov. 1.

Joel Plaskett— perhaps one of the best known songwriters to come out of Nova Scotia— will perform from his large repertoire of pop to soul-stirring folk to rock, including tunes from his most recent album, Scrappy Happiness.

This album, his eighth, was released in “epic fashion” after his slow-release of the tracks. Plaskett unveiled the album over a 10-week period, each week recording and releasing a new single.

Plaskett was first recognized on the Canadian music scene in the early '90s when he performed with Thrush Hermit. He began his solo career in 1999, and has since been nominated for and received multiple awards including East Coast Music Awards, Junos and Polaris Prize.

In this upcoming local performance, Plaskett will be joined on stage by his father Bill Plaskett.

Tickets are available through the Rose Theatre box office at 905-874-2800 or www.rosetheatre.ca (<http://www.rosetheatre.ca>).
