"Apartment dwelling" means a building containing six or more dwelling units which have a common entrance from the street level, and the occupants of which have the right to use common elements.

"Dwelling Unit" means one or more habitable rooms designed or intended to be used together as a single and separate housekeeping unit by one person or jointly by two or more persons, containing its own kitchen and sanitary facilities.

"Row House" means a building other than an apartment building, that is vertically divided into a minimum of three dwelling units, each of which has independent entrances at grade to the front and the rear of the building, and each of which shares a common wall adjoining dwelling units above grade.

"Semi-Detached Dwelling" means a building divided vertically, into two separate dwelling units, with at least 50 per cent of the above-grade area of a main wall on one side of each dwelling unit attached to or the same as a main wall on one side of the other dwelling unit.

"Single Detached Dwelling" means a completely detached residential building containing only one dwelling unit.
